

AMAN CLUBHOUSE

Aman Clubhouse
Selangor, Malaysia
2014

In the absence of strong landscape feature, the Aman Clubhouse architecture employs a strong geometry to combine, present and exacerbate series of different spaces with accommodations marked by foliage of different colours.

The outer-most circle is designed as a non-structural screen within the landscape to define an 'inner' compound comprising a rectangular multipurpose hall, a circular courtyard and the reception. Simplicity in volumetric play of curves and interstitial thresholds provide varying vistas as one moves around.
